

SOCIETY THRILLED BY BRILLIANT RIDING OF DARING HORSEMAN

Accidents and Near-Accidents Keep Crowd in Tremor of Excitement. Two Expert Riders Spilled.

The hounds are straining at the leash as the... The thoroughbred... where judges... and the pack.

(FROM OUR STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

THRILLS have been the order of the day at the annual Bryn Mawr horse show. Almost from the very moment the judges entered the ring this morning until this afternoon the ever-increasing crowd of spectators have been kept in tremors of excitement by a constant series of accidents and near accidents. Never in the history of Bryn Mawr horse show has there been such an exhibition of riding and jumping as was given today.

In the ladies hunter and jumper class late today the blue ribbon went to Canada and although... The thoroughbred... where judges... and the pack.

The crowd was larger today than any time this week... The stands and boxes were full, hundreds stood about the rail and many chairs on the terrace were occupied. Society was truly out en masse.

Hardly had the excitement of the first fall subsided when Lurman Stewart, of Baltimore... The thoroughbred... where judges... and the pack.

Mr. Stewart is visiting the John R. Valentines at Bryn Mawr. He came from Baltimore to ride in the hunter and jumper class. These horses beside Fallan are Hermans, Charoux, Leneben and...

CAMERA CATCHES PROMENADERS AT BRYN MAWR

MISS JEAN LEISTER AUSTIN DRIVING WARWICK PRINCESS QUEEN, CLASS' HORSES IN PAIRS

Such mounts were entered as Wilkes King, the Virginia and St. Winifred from Samuel D. Riddle's Glen Riddle Farms; Gypsy Queen, of Roy Jackson's Rose Valley Stock Farm, and F. Ambrose Clark's Sally Combe and Chateau Latite. Another well-known entry is John R. Valentine's Hermans, from Highland Farm at Bryn Mawr.

Following the hunters, judges awarded prizes to the hunter, for the hunter and stallions in the hackney class. Saddle horses were judged the last thing before lunch.

CHILDREN OFFER PONIES. Children will be in the limelight again this afternoon when a class of ponies is entered in competition for the third Radnor Challenge Cup. Chief among the entries is Will Irishman from William J. Clothier's Valley Hill Farm at Phoenixville. This mount captured the Radnor cup last year and much is expected of him today.

Today's judging will close with the hunter and jumper class in which some of the best-known horses in the country are entered in competition for the third Radnor Challenge Cup. Chief among the entries is Will Irishman from William J. Clothier's Valley Hill Farm at Phoenixville. This mount captured the Radnor cup last year and much is expected of him today.

When the ponies in harness were judged, the entries were so numerous that it was decided to divide the class in two parts. Blue ribbons were taken by Angus, of Broadlawns Farms, in part one and Antelope, of Willabrook Farm, in part two. Another Willabrook Farm entry, Model, took a second, as did Miss Olivia Wanamaker's Woodroff Abba.

Miss Marion Dupont's Twenty Four Karat, a second prize in the saddle horse entry, with Tommy Atkins, owned by Miss Anna Austin, a second. Twenty Four Karat also took the blue ribbon in the harness class which followed, the red ribbon going to Corietta, a Broadlawns Farm entry.

Burred yesterday because judges ruled the arrival was unduly, Edward B. McLean's mare Lady Elham was brought into the oval today, remounted and admitted as an entry. She was sent from the field yesterday after being entered in the horse in harness more than 11 hands 2 inches class.

During the excitement the McLean's "million dollar" baby took his nap at the home of R. Penn Smith with detectives on guard.

Quite a buzz of excitement was heard in the grand stand as the judge with tape measure and critical eye went over Lady Elham.

SUMMARIES: Miss M. W. McLean's Twenty Four Karat, second prize in the saddle horse entry, with Tommy Atkins, owned by Miss Anna Austin, a second. Twenty Four Karat also took the blue ribbon in the harness class which followed, the red ribbon going to Corietta, a Broadlawns Farm entry.

PROBE OF PENROSE PRIMARY "SLUSH FUND" DELAYED

Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections Postpones Consideration of Norris Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The Committee on Privileges and Elections met today in the office of Senator John W. Kern of Indiana, chairman of the committee, to consider the resolution offered last week by Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, providing for an investigation of the collections and expenditures in the Pennsylvania and Illinois Senatorial primaries.

After discussing the resolution for an hour and a half, the committee adjourned without acting until next Friday, at 10 o'clock.

Senator Norris appeared before the committee and urged the passage of the resolution. He said information had reached him that much money had been expended in Pennsylvania in the interest of Penrose's candidacy.

The inquiry was proposed by Senator Norris, after charges had been made to him that large sums of money had been expended in the interest of the candidacy of Penrose in Pennsylvania, and Roger C. Sullivan, Democratic nominee in Illinois.

The resolution directs the Privileges and Elections Committee to investigate into the total amount collected and expended for the candidates in the primaries, the methods of collection and expenditure, and also to learn, if possible, whether any funds had been collected and expended for the candidates by any persons, corporations, etc., which were not recorded according to law.

The resolution directs that the committee report to the Senate whether any of the candidates in the primaries, the methods of collection and expenditure, in violation of the law, and whether the candidates, if elected, should be admitted to the Senate. The committee also is to recommend any legislation which may be deemed necessary to correct any evils it may discover.

KINKEAD THE VICTOR Named for Sheriff Despite Opposition of Ex-Senator Smith.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 22.—Late returns from Hudson County say Congressman Eugene F. Kinkead has been nominated for Sheriff of that county on the Democratic ticket.

The entire ticket, with one exception, was also successful. In that case the result is still in doubt. Kinkead did not seek re-election for Congress. He carried Jersey City by a vote of 8409 to 5755 for Emil Groth, the Wittman candidate. It is expected Kinkead will have a majority of 3600 plurality in the county. He was bitterly opposed by ex-Senator James Smith, Jr., and the latter's organization.

DUAL OFFICEHOLDERS PROVE USEFUL AIDS IN OPPOSING MAYOR

Their Votes in Select Council Sufficient to Override Veto of Land Ordinance Reeking With Scent of Graft.

Votes of dual officeholders, bipartisan sympathizers with the Republican organization, standpatters and boss-controlled members in Select Councils made possible yesterday the passage of the ordinance to condemn land for use of the Municipal Court over the veto of Mayor Blankenburg.

There was evident apprehension in Organization ranks before the balloting on the measure, that will condemn only a small plot of ground at the northeast corner of 21st and Race streets and leave the remainder of the block as a fertile field for land speculation among the usual beneficiaries of the city's land purchases.

Judge Brown, of the Municipal Court, has already made public a lavish development scheme for his court buildings that will include virtually the entire city block.

It was obviously feared yesterday by the Republican sponsors for the land condemnation that the 29 votes necessary to pass the ordinance over the Mayor's veto could not be mustered.

Urgent calls were sent out to every member of the chamber who takes orders from the bosses. William E. Hexamer, of the Fifteenth Ward, telegraphed from Washington that he would make every effort to return. He failed, however, to appear in time to have his vote recorded. One member was rushed 50 miles by automobile to cast his ballot.

DUAL OFFICEHOLDERS ACTIVE. Conspicuous among the line-up of Select Councilmen who voted to flout the Mayor's wishes and to open avenues for lavish expenditures by the Municipal Court were county officeholders, whom Mayor Blankenburg declared in his annual message to Council last Thursday to be serving in the legislative bodies of the city against all good governmental policy.

Chief of these noteworthy dual officeholders was Thomas S. Mackle, of the Twenty-fifth Ward, who receives a salary of $20 a month as clerk in the Municipal Court. His vote alone ordered from defeat the measure that will benefit the source of his salary.

Among others who hold county offices and whose votes helped to override the Mayor's veto are Harry Ransley, president of Select Council, who is a mercantile appraiser; William J. Harrington, of the Fourth Ward, employed in the office of the Register of Wills; George D'Autrey, of the Seventeenth Ward, a clerk in the office of the Recorder of Deeds; William E. Finley, of the Thirty-ninth Ward, a real estate assessor; Harry J. Trainer, of the Third Ward, who has been a mercantile appraiser; John F. Fishery, of the Thirtieth Ward, a clerk in the Quarter Sessions Court, and Edward Buckholz, of the Nineteenth Ward, clerk in the Manual of Councils as a real estate assessor.

Referring to the dual officeholders in his message last Thursday Mayor Blankenburg said: "Here are men charged with the important duty of making laws which govern the community, who, because of allegiance they owe to political dictators, can block and have blocked important public measures, and on the other hand have passed over the head of the Chief Executive measures which he disapproved and which have been recognized by the whole public as against public policy."

FALSE TO CONSTITUENTS. Thomas J. McGinnis, elected by a Democratic constituency in the Sixth Ward, cast his vote as usual in bipartisan sympathy with the Republican organization. Herbert L. Maris, the Gibbon-Keystone representative, of the 34th Ward in the Select Chamber, similarly cast his vote with the organization. Elwood S. Davis, elected as an independent in the 23d Ward, lined up with the gang.

Republican standpatters in Select branch, who consistently boosted the extravagant plans of the Municipal Court and vetoed yesterday for their realization, were Charles Seaver, of the Seventh Ward; Edward Patton, of the 27th Ward; James E. Lennon, Vore's man in the 25th Ward.

Although Common Council passed the ordinance over the Mayor's veto last Thursday, it was accomplished by a bare three-fifths vote, and independent members later voiced their doubt that the votes could have been overridden in less hasty procedure than was adopted.

Even President McCurdy, of the Common branch, disapproved of the land-acquiring ordinance, which was adopted yesterday. He favored cutting from the $11,300,000 loan the $100,000 item for Municipal Court buildings. The attitude of President McCurdy in opposing the expansion plan of the city's newest court and his championing of the economical scheme to house the court near the present House of Detention is awakening considerable speculation among Organization forces.

CAMP FOLLOWERS OBEDIENT. Other camp followers of the organization held in leash by Vore and McNichol influences, who voted yesterday to override the Mayor's veto were James Willard, of the Eighth Ward; Alfred M. Waldron, of the Thirty-first; Louis Hutt, of the Twenty-ninth; William H. Guiley, of the Twenty-eighth; James M. Neely, of the Fourth; John J. McKinley, Jr., of the Thirty-third; George Mitchell, of the Thirty-fifth; Henry J. Klor, of the Forty-fifth; Harry E. Kennedy, of the Fourteenth; Albert De Prefontaine, of the Thirty-eighth; William J. Crawford, of the Thirtieth; John J. Conroy, of the Twenty-fifth; William B. Seal, of the Forty-first; and Elias Abrams, of the Sixteenth.

DANIELS DONS COTTON SUIT "MADE IN AMERICA"

Naval Secretary Joins Movement Initiated by Miss Genevieve Clark.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today joined the "Cotton Clothing Club" suggested by Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of the speaker. He appeared at his office in a suit of white and announced that he would wear only cotton clothing until the war ends.

"The way to help our cotton growers and manufacturers is to make a broader American market by wearing cotton clothing," said the Secretary.

MORRIS OFF TO CAPITAL Democratic Chairman Goes to Confer With Senate Committee.

Roland S. Morris, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, went to Washington today to confer with Democratic members of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, which met today to decide whether the Senate shall investigate Senator Penrose's "slush fund."

The Democratic members of the committee, while strongly in favor of an investigation of Senator Penrose's "slush fund," do not favor throwing the limelight on the methods by which Roger Rollins, of Illinois, the Democratic candidate for Senator in that State, obtained his nomination. Mr. Morris went to Washington to appear before the committee in response to a request made by Senator Kern that the men interested in the proposed investigations appear before the committee and present their views today.

Mrs. Paul Denckla Mills chose a frock of sheer white lawn and girde of navy blue silk with a green design through it. Her small hat was trimmed with bunches of leaves made of white leather.

An interesting group of future debutantes, clad in gowns of white, with plain Panama hats, occupied seats at the top of the grand stand. Among them were Miss Gertrude L. Conway, the attractive daughter of Mrs. Barkley Henry; Miss Alexandra Dolan, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dolan, who have just returned from a summer spent at Newport, and Miss Gladys Earle, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Earle, Jr.

Miss Kitty Penn Smith chose for her costume today a suit of pale green flannel, with a silk sweater a few shades deeper.

Miss Lois B. Cassatt, just returned from Newport, was in the Cassatt box. She wore a pale pink and white frock with a white lingerie hat trimmed with roses.

Mrs. Richard P. McGrann, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelso Cassatt at Seaport, Rosemont, greeted many friends during the afternoon. Mrs. McGrann was wearing a frock of black silk and a large flat black hat.

Mrs. M. Roy Jackson motored over from her home in Rosevalley. She was wearing a one-piece frock of black silk and a large flat black hat.

Mrs. Mahlon Hutchinson again was wearing in black with a large black hat having a transparent brim. In the Henry Brinton Cox box were Miss Ruth Cox and her sister, Miss Catherine Cox. Both were wearing in white with all-white hats.

Mrs. Edward F. Beale, with her daughter, Miss Hope F. Beale, was among the arrivals of the early afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dallas Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Cassatt formed an interesting group in the afternoon. Mrs. Dixon was in white and Mrs. Cassatt in ecru color, with a black hat.

The real meaning of twelve great Aeolian factories

Demand regulates output. Most merchandise has certain limited markets, but world-wide appreciation in the markets of the world makes necessary large manufacturing organizations.

The great demand for the Pianola has made it necessary for the Aeolian Company to operate twelve great factories. This is the world's largest piano manufacturing organization. The reason for it is:

Pianola Pianos. Stroud, $550. Weber, $1000. Wheelock, $750. Steinway, $1250.

Also Francesca-Heppe Player-Piano, $450. Aeolian Player-Piano, $395. Write for large illustrated catalogs.
